ACE International Consultants S.L. joins AECOM's international development business

Madrid-based firm strengthens AECOM's international-aid presence in support of its commitment to social, economic development.

LOS ANGELES (July 10, 2014) — AECOM Technology Corporation (NYSE: ACM), the world's #1-ranked engineering design firm, announced today that Madrid-based ACE International Consultants S.L. has joined its international development business. Terms of the transaction were not disclosed.

ACE International Consultants is a leading consulting firm specializing in economic and social development cooperation and private sector development. Its primary client is EuropeAID, with additional work funded by the World Bank, the InterAmerican Development Bank, and the European Training Foundation. The firm has approximately 80 employees who leverage their working relationships with a global network of roughly 8,000 experts in nearly 140 countries to advance clients' programs.

"Adding ACE International Consultants' professionals and their expertise to our international development business bolsters our presence in Africa, the Mediterranean region and Latin America while also strengthening our relationships with key Europe-based aid organizations," said Mike Burke, AECOM president and chief executive officer. "Combining our firms' resources advances AECOM's growth strategy for our government business and diversifies our client base at a time when international development spending is expected to increase during the next decade."

ACE International Consultants' recent projects include work in Algeria, Colombia, Croatia, El Salvador, Honduras, Mexico, South Africa, Tunisia and Turkey.

"Joining AECOM — a Fortune 500 company — provides us with the size, reach, and breadth of technical expertise that will inspire clients while enabling us to deliver larger projects in more countries," said Antonio Bonet, president of ACE International Consultants. "We'll also be able to expand our expertise in sectors such as agriculture, energy, transportation and the environment."

"ACE International Consultants strengthens AECOM's ability to improve the quality of life for people around the world through targeted initiatives that support growth, reduce poverty, improve education and provide clean drinking water," added Michael J. Donnelly, AECOM's group chief executive, global support services, which includes the international development business. "We enthusiastically welcome Antonio Bonet and his entire team to AECOM."
