AECOM awarded FEMA emergency recovery services contract worth up to US$500 million

LOS ANGELES (March 7, 2012) — AECOM Technology Corporation (NYSE: ACM), a leading provider of professional technical and management support services for public and private sector clients in more than 130 countries around the world, announced today that it has been awarded an emergency recovery and technical support services contract from the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

The contract is worth up to US$500 million during one base year and four option years. This is AECOM's fifth consecutive Public Assistance Technical Assistance Contract from FEMA.

"AECOM has a strong performance history with FEMA in its critical disaster-recovery missions across the United States and the U.S. territories," said John M. Dionisio, AECOM chairman and chief executive officer. "We are honored to continue partnering with FEMA to boost its capacity to respond to natural catastrophes."
