Company to provide design, construction supervision services for landmark site

LOS ANGELES--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Nov. 5, 2009-- AECOM Technology Corporation (NYSE: ACM), a leading provider of professional technical and management support services for government and commercial clients around the world, announced today that it has won key contracts worth US$60 million from the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region to provide infrastructure design and construction supervision consulting services for the landmark Kai Tak redevelopment project.

The aim of the effort is to transform the old Kai Tak Airport site into a vibrant community supported by a variety of commercial, social and recreational facilities. AECOM's work will encompass urban design; landscape, road, drainage and sewerage works; sewage pumping stations; water supply systems; and dredging and treatment of contaminated sediment.

"We are proud to contribute our expertise to this landmark project," said John M. Dionisio, AECOM president and chief executive officer. "This exciting project provides an excellent example of how AECOM is able to leverage our global expertise and presence to serve our clients."

Construction is scheduled to be implemented in phases during 2011. The project's public park is expected to be completed during 2012, while the overall effort is scheduled to be completed during 2018.
