

AECOM Acquires TSH, Expands in Canada

April 14, 2008

425-employee engineering firm will expand AECOM's presence in Canadian infrastructure market

LOS ANGELES--(BUSINESS WIRE)--April 14, 2008--AECOM Technology Corporation (NYSE: ACM), a leading provider of professional technical and management support services for government and commercial clients around the world, announced today that it has acquired Totten Sims Hubicki Associates (TSH), a Canadian engineering firm based in Whitby, Ontario, that serves clients in a variety of markets, including transportation, facilities and environmental.

TSH, which employs 425 people, will align with AECOM's growth strategy within the Canadian infrastructure market.

"We are excited by the opportunity that TSH provides for AECOM to deliver expert services to clients throughout Canada," said John M. Dionisio, AECOM president and chief executive officer.

Founded in 1962, TSH has completed infrastructure, planning and architectural projects across Canada.

"Joining the AECOM team presents exciting opportunities for our employees and our clients," said Doug Allingham, TSH president. "We look forward to better serving existing clients and reaching new ones, while also providing new professional development opportunities for our employees." Allingham will take on a greater role in the combined organization and will also join AECOM's Leadership Council.
